SHARP graduate, Dr. Marlene Chakhtoura, faculty member of the Division of Endocrinology, recently elected to the Committee of Scientific Advisors (CSA) of the International Osteoporosis Foundation (IOF). The CSA is the medical and scientific community of the IOF and includes 146 global experts in the field of osteoporosis and musculoskeletal health. The objectives of the CSA are to:

- Advise the Board in all scientific matters related to IOF,
- Further the clinical and research objectives of IOF,
- Support national policy changes relating to bone, muscle and joint health
- Provide recommendations for practice in the care of osteoporosis on a global scale

Membership to the CSA is based on scientific merit and offers the opportunity to participate in IOF working groups and multinational research projects.
